

IPD KTI NORDIC PROPERTY BRIEFING

21 May 2015

Citykonferensen Ingenjörshuset, Stockholm

The world in motion:

How will global megatrends impact property demand and investments?

In today's investment climate where investors are surging for return, property as an asset class continues to hold a strong attractiveness. This year's program will host industry leading speakers who will be discussing the megatrends that are both stimulating and challenging the Nordic markets' future position in the changing investment landscape. The one day event will consist of four sessions exploring such issues as demographics, urbanization and digitalization and their impact on long term property demand and investment.

- Megatrends - impact on property as an asset class
- Residential - trends, demand for rental housing and impact on investment
- Shopping & Logistics - consumer and retailer preferences, winning strategies
- Offices - trends in occupancy and impact on future demand
